D.C. Launches Paid Family Leave This Summer | E. Cohen & Company, CPAs

Starting in July 2020, the District of Columbia's Paid Leave Act will provide up to eight weeks of parental leave to bond with a new child, six weeks of family leave to care for an ill family member with a serious health condition and two weeks of medical leave to care for one's own serious health condition. Unpaid leave rules have been around for a while, but paid leave programs are still a rarity in the United States.

However, the act will affect employers starting in July 2019; that's when D.C. will start collecting the tax that supports the paid leave.
